GOLDEN JACKAL HUNTING IN CROATIA

Hunting the golden jackal is becoming increasingly popular as predator hunting continues to grow in interest. The hunt takes place in the evening and at night using calls, and you will often have many shooting opportunities during a single night.

It is an exciting form of hunting where you can hear the golden jackals howling all around you throughout the night. It is possible to shoot several animals at the same location; the most important thing is to remain quiet, as more jackals will respond to the call.
The hunting area is located near the coast, making it possible to combine the hunt with a family holiday.

Golden jackal hunting is permitted year-round and can be combined with mouflon hunting, although trophies at this location rarely exceed 70 cm.
